Ms. Nadia Jamil's exclusive visit to PSRD as a goodwill ambassador was a special occasion. Her presence brought attention to the initiatives and efforts of PSRD in promoting social responsibility and development. Ms. Nadia Jamil can significantly boost morale, raise awareness, and potentially attract more support and resources to initiatives aimed at social responsibility. Her visit ended with a shopping spree at the Skill Development Centre at PSRD, where Differently abled persons are trained and empowered with skills to make saleable crafts like tissue boxes, money envelopes and gift bags.

Husnain Adeel's journey from reporting delayed milestones, poor cognition, and severe iron deficiency anemia to improving significantly is truly remarkable. Two years ago, after being examined by PSRD doctors, he was diagnosed as a child with cerebral palsy (CP). His treatment included active brain modulators which helped to enhance his cognitive functions; physiotherapy focused on improving his physical mobility and coordination; and supplements aimed at addressing his iron deficiency anemia. All this contributed to his overall health and well-being.

Abdul Haq's story is truly inspiring and showcases his incredible determination and entrepreneurial spirit despite facing challenges due to cerebral palsy.

Living with five family members on rent, financial constraints initially limited Abdul Haq's ability to pursue higher education. However, he didn't give up. He had a vision to install a clean water filtration plant in his community to meet local needs and generate income for his family.

Abdul Haq secured a loan of Rs 50,000 from PSRD's VRC. This enabled him to start his entrepreneurial journey while continuing his education. Despite his challenges, he achieved a BS Hons degree.

As his business grew, Abdul Haq repaid his initial loan and sought further funding to expand. He secured an additional loan of Rs 75,000 to purchase a loader rickshaw, which significantly boosted his business income. Now, Abdul Haq earns Rs 45,000 per month from his enterprise, highlighting the success of his entrepreneurial endeavor.

Amjad Ali's experience with severe lower back pain due to heavy lifting at work highlights a common occupational hazard. However, his proactive approach to seeking treatment and following a personalized plan with PSRD's physiotherapist has proven beneficial.

Through consistent physiotherapy sessions, Amjad experienced gradual relief from his lower back pain. Strengthening his core muscles likely played a crucial role in supporting his spine and reducing strain during activities like bending and lifting.

Jannat Kashif, a 6-year-old orphan, faced a significant challenge with a congenital foot deformity and leg-shortening. In response to her condition, PSRD doctors have recommended Ankle-Foot Orthosis (AFO), a specialized brace designed to support and improve her foot's function and alignment. While her treatment plan initially involved considering amputation of the extra foot, her current focus is on undergoing treatment with hope that she will achieve improved mobility, despite the challenges she faces.

ORTHOTICS & PROSTHETICS UNIT

1262 Patients attended

Zaryab's journey is a powerful reminder of determination. Despite facing the challenge of losing both arms in a factory accident at a young age of 20, he didn't lose hope. Through prosthetic treatment sponsored by a generous donor, he gained a functional arm, enabling him to regain independence and confidence. With one functional arm and the support of his prosthetic, Zaryab has found his way back into the workforce. He now works independently at a local welding shop, showcasing incredible resilience and determination.
