"I was on the brink of despair after dropping out of Kyambogo University due to financial constraints. I felt like I had lost my purpose. However, the Inzonzi Kolakita peer empowerment program through ATF became a turning point in my life. It helped me tap into my inner strength and discover a renewed sense of determination. Today, I am a confident leader—empowering my peers and inspiring others to stay in school. The impact of the program has been profound, and I am truly grateful for the support and guidance that has transformed my life."

"When I got pregnant during my diploma studies, I felt like my dreams were shattered. But this ATF program showed me that I wasn't alone—and that I had the power to rewrite my story. Through Inzonzi Kolakita, I found my voice and became a peer mentor. Now, I help others navigate similar challenges, and it's incredibly fulfilling. The program taught me resilience, adaptability, and the importance of community. I am deeply thankful for the second chance it gave me."
