

Project: Sponsor the education of 50 children of internally displaced persons (IDPs) in Yorosso, Mali.

Summary

In Mali, armed conflicts and climate crises have forced thousands of families to flee their villages. In Yorosso, many children of internally displaced persons (IDPs) are deprived of education due to the closure of schools in insecure areas and the lack of resources of parents in new refuge areas. This project aims to finance the schooling of these children by enrolling them in school, paying school fees, meals and providing them with appropriate educational support.

Funding goal: $5,000

- Sponsor the schooling of 50 IDP children for one year.
- Cover registration fees, school supplies, meals and outfits.
- Provide psychosocial and educational support to children.

Challenge

Internally displaced persons (IDPs) in Yorosso live in precarious conditions, without access to education for their children in the new reception areas. The lack of financial means of parents, food insecurity and the absence of academic support prevent these children from continuing their education. Without intervention, these children risk falling into illiteracy, early work, social exclusion or violence.

Solution

With your support, we will sponsor the education of 50 IDP children by providing them with:

- Tuition fees for a full school year.
- School supplies (notebooks, pens, bags, outfits).
- Psycho-social support to help these children overcome their trauma.
- School meals to encourage regular school attendance.

Long term impact

- ✦ Sustainable access to education for vulnerable children.
- ✦ Reduction of child labor and early marriages.
- ✦ Breaking the cycle of poverty by giving children the tools for a better future.
- ✦ Strengthening social cohesion by integrating IDPs into the local education system.

How can you help?

$10 = School supplies for one child.

$50 = Tuition fees for one term.

$100 = Full sponsorship of a child for one year.

Your donation will help these children get an education and a better future. 🙏

Every donation counts! With just $100, you can sponsor a child for a full school year.
