In March 2025, the " Project to support the improvement of the traditional chicken farming system" was developed and submitted to GlobalGiving .

The overall objective of this project was to "contribute to the improvement of the traditional livestock system by introducing high-performing breeding stock to 5 courageous, experienced farmers who did not have sufficient resources to promote their activities."

Specifically, it involved:

- ✓ To make poultry production semi-professional in communities;
- ✓ Improve the living conditions of livestock farmers;
- ✓ To encourage consumers to appreciate local livestock products;
- ✓ To encourage farmers to comply with simple technical farming practices;
- ✓ To empower producers to effectively manage their operations.

The expected results of said project were as follows

- ✓ The level of knowledge of traditional chicken farming techniques has been strengthened and appreciated;
- ✓ The conditions and breeding system of traditional chickens have been improved;
- ✓ Avian diseases causing mortality in birds have been brought under control;
- ✓ An increase in the number of hens in the chicken coops has been observed;
- ✓ The data for the proper management of activities are respected;
- ✓ The changes brought about by the activities are collected;
- ✓ The difficulties encountered are noted and actions are directed towards improving the quality of activities;
- ✓ The collected or recovered manure is used for composting to fertilize arable soils.

However, since its publication, the NGO has only been able to collect $10.50 so far.
