To Whom It May Concern,

Our company, Zamtouch, is a leading tech company based in Lusaka. We have over 12 years of experience delivering professional web design, mobile app development, and custom business systems to international and local organizations across both the private and public sectors. Our current clients include the World Labor Organization and the Geological Society of Zambia.

We have proudly partnered with the Luanshya Information and Learning Center due to our shared values in improving youth outcomes in Zambia. We are especially committed to developing the Ikatika App to connect Zambian youth and help close the information gap that continues to rob them of digital equity and economic empowerment.

Please do not hesitate to reach out should you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Mathias Chitalu
