The Sisters of Mary Schools

The Sisters of Mary congregation started its operation in the Philippines in 1985 through its founder, the Venerable Msgr. Aloysius Schwartz. The Sisters work primarily by establishing boarding schools, also known as Boystowns and Girlstowns, that serve as schools and lodgings for deserving students coming from very poor families. These children are provided for with quality high school education, food, clothing, shelter, medical and dental services - free of charge.

With complete facilities and qualified teachers, the four established Sisters of Mary Schools-SMS (two in Cavite and two in Cebu) aim to achieve excellence in both academic and technical courses. Besides the prescribed curriculum, students receive intensive vocational skills trainings.

More important than the intellectual knowledge and the skills are the desirable human virtues and values that are being instilled constantly in the hearts of the students.

Through all these, the SMS hope to contribute to society many productive citizens, capable of leading moral Christian lives.
