Yvonne Gomado, fertilizer distributor in biggest tomato farming community of Ghana

I make good sales from Asase Gyefo Fertilizer. The farmers show me the results of their maize, sweet pepper, onion, tomato and watermelon crops. I expect the Asase Gyefo sales to go sky-high! Before, many farmers used cow dung and chicken droppings, but the results are not the same. Cow dung only has nitrogen whereas Asase Gyefo is rich in organic matter that improves soil health including all the nutrients and mineral such as copper, zinc, calcium and magnesium.
