

Helping Bethlehem's most vulnerable animals in need

In Bethlehem, many animals are in desperate need for help as they face a struggle to survive every day. Because of the ongoing conflict, so many animals are hungry, injured and have no one to care for them. Many animal shelters are packed to capacity with animals all in need, requiring urgent supplies like food, veterinary treatment and care. It's difficult to fund and receive veterinary treatment. With so many animals in need, many are left to fend for themselves alone, scared, in pain and hungry.

Why ROLDA is helping

ROLDA (the Romanian League for Animal Defence) helps many vulnerable animals in need especially those within conflict areas of war, wherever they are in the world.

An animal rescue shelter in Bethlehem reached out to us as they were overwhelmed with the volume of animal emergency cases flooding through their gates. Food and medicine supplies are always low.

We stepped in to support our friends in Bethlehem with this project so we can support the crucial work the rescuers working do every day to help these animals in desperate need of help.

How ROLDA is helping

This is an emergency plea to help us continue to provide direct support to the rescue team in Bethlehem. With your help, we can:

- Provide emergency food for starving animals
- Help fund veterinary treatment for injured and sick dogs and cats
- Supply basic medical essentials like antibiotics, dressings and parasite treatments
- Repair and improve shelters so animals have a safe, clean place to recover
- Support transport costs so animals can reach a vet or safer location

A donation helps to reduce animal hunger, injury, pain and fear.

Emergency appeal

The situation in Bethlehem is still unstable and can change rapidly. The rescue team witness so many animals coming in injured, dehydrated and traumatised. They have said that without the vital support they will soon have to turn away more animals because they do not have the resources, we do not want this to happen and want to help, this is why this is an emergency appeal.

With ROLDA's help, these animals at least have a chance. But we can't keep this going without support from people like you.

When you donate, you are:

- Making sure an abandoned animal gets food today
- Covering the cost of urgent treatment that could save a life
- Helping a small rescue team stay open and respond to emergencies
- Providing comfort and safety to animals who have lost everything

You can help

Your kindness gives the animals in Bethlehem the strength to survive another day.

- £10 feeds several rescued animals

- £25 covers essential medical supplies
- £50 funds an emergency vet visit
- £100 helps repair or upgrade shelter space

A monthly donation can help provide plan food deliveries as well as medical supplies, to help ensure these rescuers have more vital supplies that they need to reach more animals in need during the crisis.

Together, we can give a new start to animals who are hurt, abandoned and forgotten.
Thank you for standing with ROLDA and with the animals who desperately need our protection.
