WILL YOU HELP US MAKE HISTORY?

Let's support Mexico's first Women's Blind Football National Team on the road to the 2026 Copa América (America Cup).

CONTEXT

Football is more than a sport, it is a universal language. It lives on the streets, in schools, and in neighborhoods. But not everyone has the same opportunity to play.

The Blind Women Footballers Collective has earned its place on the field through voice, a ball with bells, listening, and teamwork as an essential guide. Their game is built on trust and communication, in a discipline where every movement demands precision and collective coordination.

Some facts that reflect how, even within adaptive sports, women have historically been made invisible and excluded:

- Men's blind football has been officially recognized since 2004.
- It wasn't until 2019 that blind women gained access to the sport.
- In the Americas, there are only three women's national teams: Brazil, Argentina, and Canada.
- Today, women's blind football receives significantly less visibility, support, and funding than the men's adapted game.

THE CHALLENGE

Today, more than 40 blind women footballers across Mexico City, Puebla, Jalisco, Tlaxcala, and Baja California train every week with discipline and determination.

They are on the verge of achieving a historic milestone: forming Mexico's first Women's National Blind Football Team and competing in Copa América 2026. They could become the continent's fourth women's national team.

OUR COMMITMENT

At Fondo Semillas, we launched Blind Football: They Play, Mexico Says "Let's go"!, a campaign aiming to raise USD 60,000 to cover international flights, uniforms, preparatory meetings, equipment, training, and travel expenses, making it possible for Mexico's first Women's National Blind Football Team to compete in Copa América in Brazil this September.

LET'S MAKE HISTORY!

Why support this team?

Women's blind football is still growing globally, we have the opportunity to claim a unique place in its history.

Supporting this effort today is a powerful way to become part of Mexican sports history. Joining this campaign is more than making a donation, it is backing a just and meaningful cause.

EVERY CONTRIBUTION MATTERS. EVERY DONATION OPENS DOORS.

DONATE to help this team reach the place they have already earned through hard work, talent, and determination.

They are ready
Now is Mexico's turn to say: Let's go!
