

CALL FOR APPLICATION

MA in Human Rights, Peace and Democratisation

Eligibility

Applicants must

- a) have a Bachelor degree;
- b) at least 3–5 years of experience in the field, and/or have a strong interest in pursuing human rights, peace, political and social science disciplines, if they do not possess a bachelor's degree.

Cost

There are no costs to enrol in the course. (Students shall however have their own devices such as phones, tablets or computers that can download and read documents and videos like PDFs and mp3 files).

Apply before

31

October 2024

Our Program :

- ✓ Financial Support
- ✓ Mentorship and networking
- ✓ Opportunities for best academic

Apply Now!

You may apply through this Link or Scan the QR code below

The short-listed candidates will be informed no later than 15 November 2024.

Contact Us

info@ycu-mm.org

Programme Overview

The MA in Human Rights, Peace and Democratisation organised by the Pyin-Nya-Man-Daing programme (hereafter the PNMD programme) aims to educate young professionals and enhance the capacity of Myanmar academia with knowledge and skills including enhance research capacity in Human Rights, Peace and Democratisation. The MA Programme applies a multidisciplinary approach encompassing political, historical and philosophical perspectives while reflecting both international, regional and the national context.

The MA in Human Rights, Peace and Democratisation is an interdisciplinary program designed to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to address the complex human rights and peacebuilding issues in the globalized world. The program offers a comprehensive curriculum that covers theoretical and practical aspects of human rights, conflict resolution, peace studies and democratic governance.

The Programme features a team of experienced lecturers, tutors and guest speakers. The MA curricula design and development was initially supported by international and local academic and civil society experts in the fields ensuring that the standard of the curricula is similar to that of universities abroad and also incorporation of relevant contextualised case studies. Teaching materials are available in Burmese and English.. The course uses synchronous and asynchronous learning methods through a mixture of live lectures, tutorials and discussions, pre-recorded lectures, reading materials, quizzes and assignments.

Programme Design and Structure

Degree Offers: MA in Human Rights, Peace and Democratisation

Duration: Four-semester, 20 months study programme including 3 semesters of course work and 1 semester for the MA thesis and related research

Language:Burmese and English

Time Commitment: Each discipline requires a weekly commitment of approximately 6- 8 hours class commitment, and expects the students of weekly 5-7 hours self-study.

Admission Test

All applicants must pass 'the Bridging course, a preparation course that assists students meet the academic requirements, to sit the admission test. Only the selected applicants who pass the admission test can join the MA Programme. The 2 months Bridging Course will commence in the mid-January 2025.

Required Documents

- Curriculum Vitae
- BA degree certificate (if any)
- English proficiency certificate (if any)
- One reference letter
- Motivational letter
- Research plan

Note:

Students who are studying law, international relations, human rights, peace studies, political science and social science are encouraged to apply.