DOS AGUAS

We open opportunities to transform community and territory

¿Quienes Somos?

En Fundación Dos Aguas creemos que cada persona merece un futuro digno en el lugar donde nació y que puede aportar a su territorio desde sus talentos y recursos.

Somos una organización sin ánimo de lucro que Impulsamos el desarrollo sostenible en Rincón del Mar, creando oportunidades en educación, deporte, emprendimiento, conservación ambiental y bienestar animal.

Trabajamos junto a la comunidad, en un entorno rural y turístico en crecimiento, tejiendo iniciativas para que sus habitantes sean hoy y siempre los protagonistas y decisores de su propio futuro.

Rincón del Mar

Vivimos en un territorio de enorme riqueza natural y cultural, que también enfrenta profundas desigualdades:

- Ecosistemas de gran biodiversidad seriamente amenazados, hogar de especies únicas de flora y fauna.
- San Onofre es municipio ZOMAC y PDET. Rincón del Mar es sujeto de reparación colectiva en el marco de la Ley de Víctimas.
- Población más del 90% afrodescendiente, el 56% vive en pobreza multidimensional.
- Menos del 15% de los bachilleres accede a educación postsecundaria, y el 27% de las sedes educativas en Sucre no cuentan con internet.
- La baja calidad educativa, la ausencia de orientación vocacional y la falta de referentes cercanos limitan gravemente las oportunidades juveniles.
- En Sucre, la tasa de desempleo es del 11% y el 68,2% de los empleos son informales.

En este contexto, la educación no sólo es una oportunidad individual: es una herramienta clave para el desarrollo territorial y la resiliencia comunitaria.

Who are we?

At Fundación Dos Aguas we believe that every person deserves a dignified future in the place where they were born and that they can contribute to their territory with their talents and resources.

We are a non-profit organization that promotes sustainable development in Rincón del Mar, creating opportunities in education, sports, entrepreneurship, environmental conservation and animal welfare.

We work together with the community, in a growing rural and tourist environment, weaving initiatives so that its inhabitants are today and always the protagonists and decision-makers of their own future.

Rincón del Mar, Colombia

We live in a territory of enormous natural and cultural wealth, which also faces profound inequalities:

- Highly biodiverse ecosystems seriously threatened, home to unique species of flora and fauna.
- San Onofre is a ZOMAC and PDET municipality. Rincón del Mar is a subject of collective reparations under the Victims Law.
- Population more than 90% Afro-descendant, 56% live in multidimensional poverty.
- Less than 15% of high school graduates access post-secondary education, and 27% of educational institutions in Sucre do not have internet access.
- Low quality education, lack of vocational guidance, and a lack of close role models severely limit opportunities for young people.
- In Sucre, the unemployment rate is 11% and 68.2% of jobs are informal.

In this context, education is not just an individual opportunity:
It is a key tool for territorial development and community resilience.

Our flagship project

TitaNext was created in 2023 as a direct response to the need and desire of the young people of Rincón del Mar to build their own future.

Each year we support 15 students in their final year of high school, in designing viable and contextualized life plans that integrate personal development, academic training, and community engagement. It is an innovative model of vocational guidance and youth leadership, created from and for the local community, that addresses the structural barriers of a historically excluded rural area.

The program offers comprehensive vocational guidance for making decisions about higher education, in accordance with the talents and resources of each participant.

- It provides scholarships and ongoing tutoring that strengthen their academic quality and retention in higher education.

It promotes community practices that strengthen the social fabric and restore value to the territory.

- Family is essential in every young person's journey. Therefore, parents receive information and guidance about their children's process and are involved as a support network.

In this way, TitaNext not only opens pathways to higher education and formal employment, but also instills in each young person the certainty that their talent has value, their dreams matter, and their future can transform an entire community.

By connecting personal purpose with community commitment, our TitaNext Higher Education Training and Guidance Program transforms the desire to "be someone in life" into a concrete path towards inclusion, economic resilience and the construction of a sustainable future for Rincón del Mar.

Results and Impact

The results show that when talent is supported, it flourishes:

- 45 young people have participated since 2023, designing and implementing life plans according to their own dreams and abilities.
- Of the 31 who completed the program, 83% entered technical, technological or professional programs.
- We have awarded 9 scholarships that have allowed students to continue their education outside the municipality and we plan to award 5 new scholarships to young people in training in 2025.

All scholarship recipients maintain an active link with their community through voluntary social service practices with local organizations.

- Family support networks have been strengthened, with mothers and fathers actively involved as support in the process.
- The participants have developed socio-emotional, communicative and psycho-affective skills that transform not only their future, but also that of those around them.

The approach is not limited to choosing a career: it encourages young people to understand their context, value their talents, and envision a future with purpose and direction.
