Opening paths through education

Deaf children and young people - Mexico

INSTITUTIONAL DONOR BROCHURE

WHO WE ARE

Education designed for dignity and inclusion

OUR MISSION

To educate deaf children and young people, and those who face language and learning barriers, regardless of their economic situation, contributing to their dignified inclusion in society.

Who we serve

IPPLIAP serves deaf children and young people, as well as children who face barriers in language and learning. The 2025 educational project identifies 250 deaf children and young people from low-income backgrounds as rights-holders.

Mexico

On-site preschool and primary education
Distance learning for deaf young people

A specialized, inclusive environment

IPPLIAP's educational program is intended to be a model for other educational settings serving deaf learners.

OUR EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

Language, learning and whole-child development

What the program is designed to do

- Support Mexican Sign Language acquisition and the full development of each learner's abilities.
- Reduce educational and social inequality and strengthen inclusion in family and society.
- Continue preschool and primary education for deaf children.
- Provide complementary workshops in oral communication, Spanish, learning therapy, neurodevelopment, football and computing.
- Offer virtual workshops to children and deaf young people in other Mexican states.
- Build parents' communication and caregiving skills, and share experience with teachers.

PROGRAMS

A connected educational pathway

PRESCHOOL AND PRIMARY EDUCATION

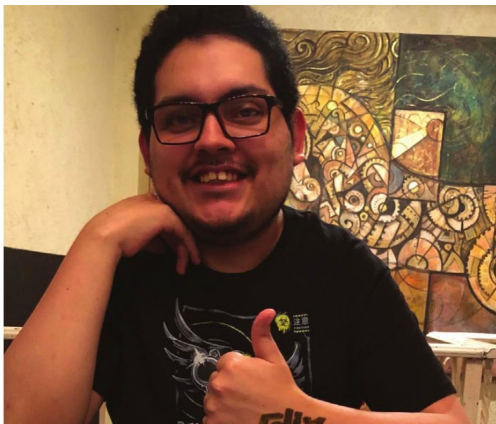

Formal education incorporated into Mexico's Ministry of Public Education (SEP), within a specialized and inclusive environment for deaf children.

PALA

COMPREHENSIVE LANGUAGE AND LEARNING SUPPORT

Children facing language and learning barriers gain strategies to continue their education successfully in safe environments that reinforce self-esteem and nurture the pleasure of learning.

JOS - DEAF YOUTH PROGRAM

Nationwide distance education for deaf young people, strengthening communication, cognitive and social skills. The National JOS Families Gathering also reinforces family, emotional and communication ties.

PROGRAMS

Communication that reaches beyond the classroom

MEXICAN SIGN LANGUAGE

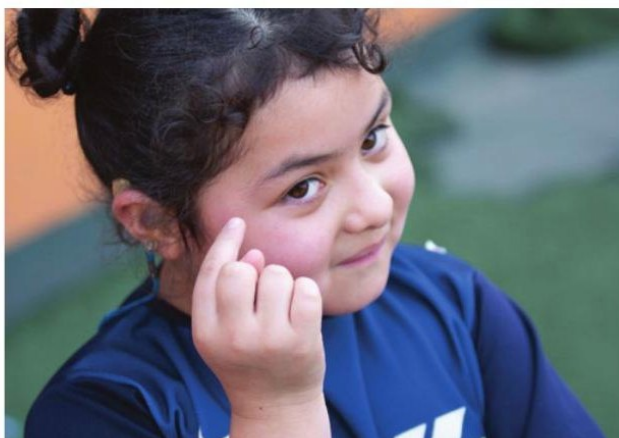

Families learn to communicate in Mexican Sign Language, supporting effective communication and the inclusion of deaf children at home. Parents participate from different parts of the country.

TEACHER TRAINING

IPPLIAP shares its experience with educators across Mexico to contribute to more equitable education for deaf students and learners with diverse language and learning processes.

283 teachers from different Mexican states trained in 2025

WHY SUPPORT MATTERS

Donor trust keeps opportunity within reach

IPPLIAP's work helps reduce educational and social inequality by supporting language, communication, learning and the full development of children and young people. Each primary-school graduation represents a real opportunity for inclusion, autonomy and development.

Your support helps sustain:

specialized education • developmental workshops • virtual access for learners across Mexico • family communication • teacher training

Together, we make it possible.
