

GITC is a non-profit organization boosting academic engagement through hands-on music making in elementary schools across the U.S.

GITC programs boost literacy & learning by training, equipping and coaching teachers & students to lead & learn through the power of song.

GITC workshops, weekly classes and artist residencies include strumming, singing & educational songwriting with folk instruments.

In 2017-18, GITC has been assisted by these innovative music product companies:

Want Music in Every Classroom? Help GITC Make the Big Difference. Get Involved & Join Our Team!

Together we can expand the role of music in education by increasing access to innovative instruction & affordable musical products and resources.

This year we trained over 1300 teachers and reached a million students with music!

Volunteers & sponsors make these programs possible, reaching thousands of students.

Whether you advise, volunteer or donate, supply or subsidize musical instruments & accessories or advocate for music, you will change the lives of thousands of children.

You will improve education.

Please join our caring community to:

- ❖ Engage students in learning through music
- ❖ Get instruments into their hands
- ❖ Impart musical knowledge and skills
- ❖ Improve their language and literacy
- ❖ Deepen their thirst for knowledge
- ❖ Motivate them in math through music
- ❖ Boost their hand-eye & motor coordination
- ❖ Teach them creativity and critical thinking
- ❖ Improve their memory & memorization
- ❖ Increase their communication skills
- ❖ Inspire teamwork through music
- ❖ Build leadership as well as cooperation
- ❖ Give students much needed opportunities
- ❖ Foster a sense of purpose and pride to help all students thrive.
