

“I have a greater understanding of what my parents go through. My mom does this every week! It’s so time consuming. I learned that it’s more important to buy what you need and not just what you want.”

“Today showed me the struggles my mom goes through with bills. It was helpful because this is preparing me for the future. This material that I took in today is needed in life and I’m thankful I learned it.”

“I learned so much today! It’s so important to have the knowledge of how to budget. I’m going to take what I learned today home to help my parents make a budget.”

“I learned that when financing your budget, depending on family, you need to sacrifice things to meet budget. I also understand why my dad can’t spend much. With a family of five, we can’t have money left over compared to my “family” of three.”

“I learned that having kids is not easy. You have to watch your budget. You can’t go out much and have to cut on some stuff.”
